

Molecular Ecology Symposium

8-10.10.2014, Turku, Finland

1st Finnish Molecular Ecology and Evolution Symposium

The aim of this symposium is to bring together Finland-based researchers with an interest in molecular ecology and evolution for the first time, with a view to 'kick starting' a more regular meeting routine as a part of the Oikos Finland Society bi-annual meetings in the future.

More than 70 researchers from all around Finland have expressed an interest in attending the event and we look forward to welcoming you all to the Turku archipelago!

Where? Harjattulan Kartano, Kakskerta (18km from Turku)

When? 1pm, Wed October 8 – 1pm, Fri October 10, 2014

Cost? From 60€ (including meals and twin accommodation)
